

SchoolsPlus Summer Camp Activities – July 2015

SchoolsPlus summer camp activities resumed today at CAMS with Dave Brennan and Shirley Burris running this week's activities.

Left: a little one-on-one basketball in the rain. This young man was teaching basic throw techniques, and he was helping to make a video for the Horizons' Project.

Above right: chisel work on the bowls continued today. Dave Brennan introduced these projects to youth some time ago, and we are grateful to the Horizons' project (Health and Wellness), for the funding for tools.

Above: Some skate park biking was fun mid-morning, under Dave's tutelage.

Above left: School might be over for the summer but Dave Brennan is still very busy at his job. Mr. Brennan happened by this Foosball table and rebuilt it. It is housed in the SchoolsPlus Community Room at Chester Area Middle School, and is being enjoyed here by one of the students who drop by for summer programs.

Above right: Dave Brennan, and students managed to find old parts of computers no longer working. Over the past two months, Dave has been helping youths learn how to build computers from these parts. In July, as part of SchoolsPlus summer programs, and with the help of Ross Shatford, from our Tech department, the computer was up and running! Lots of smiles!
